About Schmatz

Schmatz is a fast growing German beer restaurant group, with restaurants in Akasaka, Omotesando & Kanda and the plan to grow to more than a 100 restaurants over the next years. We have a venture capital, finance & marketing background and are working hard to build the fastest growing restaurant company in Japan with the happiest team and customers! We have grown our business from a food truck to a multi-unit operation since inception in 2014, and have created a desirable food and lifestyle brand that has been featured in all relevant media outlets - TV and print. Schmatz is backed by a group of prestigious local and international investors, which gives us the opportunity to highly accelerate our growth and build an incredibly talented team.

As an international, young, energetic and highly motivated team, we work in a dynamic, high growth environment where you will really have an impact.

We are looking for a talented, driven and inspiring candidate in Tokyo to join our ambitious and dynamic team and help support our fast-growing business.

Job Description

As a marketing intern for Schmatz Japan - our #1 focus market - you will support building up a 100+ restaurant operation by 2020. You will join us in opening 5+ retail outlets within the next months, will create a strong & awesome brand ready to franchise all over Asia and work directly with the founders. Your role is essential to the success of the business.

- You will be directly working with the management team in Tokyo and significantly contribute to getting our business to the next level
- Your main task is developing our current business across all aspects, creating and driving marketing campaigns both online and offline
- You will be part of a team of high-powered professionals responsible for delivering key strategic projects that are essential to the success of the further growth of the company
- We guarantee you a steep learning curve from day one: As an intern with us, your responsibilities will include but are not limited to assisting in real estate negotiation, performance marketing, supply chain management, process optimization, operational management as well as topics such as financial management

Who we are looking for

- Analytical skills with intellectual curiosity
- work experience in one of the following industries: Food & Beverage, Retail, Hospitality, CPG, Tech or Finance
- Strong English verbal and written skills
- Japanese is a plus
- A team player with a fantastic can-do attitude
- Excited to work in a fast-paced environment with constant change
- Strategic & critical thinking– you get both the smaller and bigger picture
